Celebrating 26 years

President's Message

The Melbourne Art Festival arrives this month, and we can hardly wait to show you what we've been working on. You'll enjoy award-winning art, entertainment, a student art competition, the inaugural Art for a Cause fundraiser, art workshops, and huge family fun. The MAF provides free park & ride service from two locations and there is no admission fee. Check melbournearts.org for all the details. I look forward to seeing you at the festival.

Attention Students!

The MAF provides credit hours for school or honor programs. We need you and hundreds of other volunteers age 16 and up.

A Great Time for a Volunteer

Volunteering at the festival April 24 & 25 is guaranteed fun – choose from loads of different activities. We need 600 weekend volunteers to get things done like prepping for the 5K run in the early hours of Saturday, selling soft drinks or beer, helping with kids crafts, collecting statistics, and lots more.

Go to www.melbournearts.org to sign up, then report to the Volunteer Tent at the point just west of the railroad tracks on New Haven Ave. fifteen minutes before your scheduled volunteer time. Please post this information at your workplace and ask your friends and co-workers if they'd like to volunteer, too. We appreciate your time in helping to ensure the festival's success!

Special Note

Per the Florida East Coast railroad, do not walk alongside of the railroad tracks or cross the tracks anywhere other than where designated. To do so is trespassing and you may be subject to fine or arrest.
